

Cottage Food

Home Made In the 406

January 2017

Cottage Foods are non-potentially hazardous foods that are made in a home kitchen

Selling cottage foods, or foods made in a home kitchen, became legal in October of 2015. Since legalization, 91 Montanans have registered as operators in 27 counties.

Each recipe is reviewed by the local health department to ensure it is a non-potentially hazardous product, a food posing a low-risk of causing sickness, but no inspections occur.

14

Average number of products per Registered Operator

91 Montanans have registered

1281

Unique Products

The type of product registered is reflected in the "Word Cloud" above, larger words represent more common products.

Cottage Food

- Made in a home kitchen
- Non-Potentially Hazardous
- Direct Sales to Consumer