Medicaid Management Information System (MMIS)

DEFINITION

The Medicaid Management Information System (MMIS) is an automated system of claims processing and information retrieval required to be used by State Medicaid Programs. It includes information on Medicaid providers, consumers, and claims. Data includes date, type, amount, frequency, and cost of services, consumer identification, and payment category.

USE OF MMIS DATA

MMIS data are also used to produce utilization data and management information about Medicaid consumers and services.

The Mental Health Services Bureau often creates special reports from the MMIS for program review and projections.
