During 2008-2013, participation in the Diabetes Prevention Program significantly varied by gender and age:

- 81% of adults aged ≥18 years were women.
- Female participation rates in the DPP decreased with age.
- Females aged ≤39 years had the highest participation rates.
- Older males aged ≥70 years were more likely to participate than males in the younger age groups.

To learn more about the DPP visit https://dphhs.mt.gov/publichealth/Diabetes or call 406-444-0593

CONTACT
Dorota Carpenedo, MPH
Epidemiologist
406-444-0653
Dcarpenedo@mt.gov

Data Source: Montana Diabetes Prevention Program, 2008-2013.