Not a Laughing Matter

You’ve probably heard a joke that started with “A dog walks into a bar…”, but have you ever wondered if dogs or other animals are allowed in bars?

This brochure provides information on the restrictions of animals in food service establishments in Montana.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Is it legal to bring live animals into a bar, restaurant or grocery store?

A: The simple answer to the question is “no”, except for service animals. Animals are not allowed in food establishments in Montana, including bars, taverns, etc. that primarily serve alcohol.

See the full language of the Administrative Rules of Montana for details.

Q: What is a service animal?

A: "Service animal" means an animal such as a guide dog, signal dog, or other animal individually trained to provide assistance to an individual with a disability. From FDA Food Code 2013, 1-201.10(B)

Service animals are defined as dogs* that are individually trained to do work or perform tasks for people with disabilities. Examples of such work or tasks include guiding people who are blind, alerting people who are deaf, pulling a wheelchair, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, reminding a person with mental illness to take prescribed medications, calming a person with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) during an anxiety attack, or performing other duties. Service animals are working animals, not pets. Dogs* whose sole function is to provide comfort or emotional support do not qualify as service animals under the ADA. -U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division

*Dogs are the main animals recognized as service animals; however, there are other provisions for miniature horses. Information is available www.ada.gov.

Q: What questions can a food establishment ask me about my service animal?

A: When it is not obvious what service an animal provides, only limited inquiries are allowed. Staff may ask two questions:

1. Is the dog* a service animal required because of a disability, and
2. What work or task has the dog* been trained to perform.

Staff cannot ask about the person’s disability, require medical documentation, require a special identification card or training documentation for the dog*, or ask that the dog* demonstrate its ability to perform the work or task.

Q: Who may I contact if I see an animal in a food service establishment?

A: Contact your local Environmental Health office or DPHHS-Food and Consumer Safety Section with your concerns. Visit our website at www.fcss.mt.gov to find your local Environmental Health office (sanitarian) or call 406-444-2837.
