

Quitting for Granddaughter Script

Grandma:

It's been 27 years... I never thought I'd still be smoking. But here I am, COPD and all. I'm about to have a granddaughter. There's so much to show her, but I'm scared I won't be able to keep up like I used to. I kind of gave up on myself... on quitting. But it's different now. I want to be there for her... and for my daughter.
