

Stroke Risk Radio Ad Script

A stroke is like a storm inside the brain, and your health history may put you at greater risk.

If you have high blood pressure or diabetes, you smoke or you're overweight, you may be more likely to suffer a stroke. Talk to a healthcare provider to learn ways to reduce your risk and lead a healthier life.

Do it today, and keep the storm of a stroke off the horizon.

A message from the Montana Department of Public Health & Human Services.